WINTER ISSUE

JANUARY 2013

Solebury Becomes an Audubon "Bird Town"

As of Jan. 1, Solebury is officially a "Bird Town."

Responding to a proposal from the Environmental Advisory Council (EAC), the Board of Supervisors agreed to add the Township's name to the growing list of Pennsylvania municipalities opting to partner with the state office of the National Audubon Society to promote awareness of the benefits of birds and encourage local action to protect birds and their habitats.

Solebury is Audubon Pennsylvania's 16th Bird Town.

According to Widgette Kelly, vice-chair of the EAC, "The EAC is looking forward to working with Audubon to make Solebury an even more beautiful and environmentally friendly township for both its two-legged and feathery friends."

Behind the campaign is the philosophy that what's good for birds also benefits people. As explained on the Bird Town website, Bird Towns promote "a culture of conservation where everyone is a potential steward of nature in their backyard and beyond."

"The power of Bird Town comes from individuals taking actions on their landscape and in their home to be greener, experience nature every day, and contribute to the Township's overall efforts to minimize environmental impacts," the website states.

Departments Hold Operating Budgets Flat

In recognition of the ongoing economic climate, Solebury departments have kept their operating budgets largely at the same levels as 2012, allowing the Township to produce a 2013 budget that requires no property tax increase.

Police Dept.

Police Chief Dominic Bellizzie's budget continues to set money aside each year for officer training and the scheduled replacement of vehicles, computers, and radios, but the department budget funds no extraordinary purchases in 2013.

The vehicle replacement schedule allows for the purchase of two vehicles each year, plus extended warranties. These warranties typically expire around the same time the vehicle is scheduled to be replaced.

About $13,500 from the Capital Equipment Fund will be used to address a police safety issue noted by the Township's insurance carrier: The need for new guns and either a new cell door or installation of a window in the existing cell door.

Parks & Recreation Dept.

The Township will apply $20,000 from the Parks & Recreation Capital Fund toward backstops and fencing at Laurel Park and Pat Livezey Park in 2013.

participated in the federal Drug Enforcement Administration's 5th National Prescription Drug Take-Back September 29, allowing residents to safely surrender expired, unwanted, or unused prescription and over-the-counter medicines for safe destruction by law enforcement. At left, Officer James Boone—standing with Barbara Gross, Community Outreach Coordinator for New Hope-Solebury Cares—hosts a shift at the Giant Food Store. According to Chief Dominick Bellizzie, Bucks County police departments together collected more than 2.5 tons of medications for proper disposal during the event. The next collection will be held April 27.

Historical Society Settles Into One-Room Schoolhouse

The New Hope-Solebury School District recently transferred ownership of the historic one-room schoolhouse at Sugan Road and Upper York Road in Solebury Village to the Solebury Township Historical Society.

The society has leased the building since 2007 and completed interior renovations in 2008. Since then the organization established an extensive research library there.

"We are so excited to have ownership of this historic schoolhouse," said Donneta Crane, president of the society.

She noted that the organization is committed to restoring and preserving the structure. "We are grateful that the school district recognized the importance of preserving this township icon by entrusting it to our care," she added.

"We are pleased to transfer ownership of this historic building to the Solebury Township Historical Society," New Hope-Solebury School Board President Amanda Elefante commented. "Being able to ensure the viability of the schoolhouse as a community resource was a critical aspect of our decision as a Board."

A Rich History

The one-room schoolhouse was the first school built in Solebury Township and has a rich history.

In 1755, Samuel Eastburn sold the half-acre lot on which the school was built to Buckingham Friends Meeting.

During the 1780s, Zebulon Pike, the explorer for whom Pike's Peak is named, attended the one-room schoolhouse.

It was reconstructed in 1810 and again in 1870, both as a result of fires.

In 1812, Solebury Friends Meeting took over the school, and by 1870 the school was in the possession of the Solebury Township School District.

It remained in operation as a one-room schoolhouse until 1938, when a larger elementary school was built, then continued to house first graders until the early 1950s, when new rooms were added to the 1938 school building.

Solebury Township held municipal meetings in the schoolhouse until 1959.

It was then used as the elementary school library.

After the library was moved to the elementary school in 1976, the schoolhouse was used for special education classes until the early 1990s.

The schoolhouse then served as a storage facility for the school district until it was leased to the Historical Society in 2007.

The schoolhouse is open to the public for research on Wednesdays from 3-5 PM or by appointment.

Damage Caused by Hurricane Irene and Tropical Storm Lee: One Year Later

THEN:

NOW:

ARMITAGE ROAD, which overlooks Cuttalousa Valley, was closed in the fall of 2011 until extensive repairs could be made to the road-bed (left). The one-two punch of Hurricane Irene and Tropical Storm Lee ripped away entire chunks of roadbed and destabilized the road's footing along the hillside. Now the road is open again (right). A new concrete retaining wall that extends below the roadbed ensures it is safe for travel.

THEN:

NOW:

THE STONE ARCH BRIDGE on Covered Bridge Road between Aquetong and Pidcock Creek Roads was also closed in the fall of 2011 until the bridge could be replaced (left). The 2011 storms washed away so much of the streambed that the stream flowed under the bridge walls and caused one of the walls to collapse. The new bridge (right) is now open.

Bird Town

Audubon provides Bird Towns with resources that (1) teach residents about birds that live in or regularly pass through their communities, (2) enable individuals to create healthy backyard habitats that attract birds, and (3) enlist resident volunteers in participating in Audubon bird surveys.

The EAC plans to work with Audubon to highlight the Township's ecological resources, Kelly said. For example, the Township organization will partner with the Bucks County Audubon Society to create workshops and other means of helping property owners get to know the birds in their backyards.

"Birds are natural indicators of ecological health," said Steven Saffier, who manages the Audubon Bird Town program. "Small steps in a backyard can increase the diversity of birds and at the same time create a healthier living environment for people and pets. With our incredible partners in Solebury, residents will surely hear more about their role in the lives of birds. I'm confident that they will be amazed to find out what birds come through this area as part of the Atlantic Flyway ... the super-highway of bird migration."

Stay tuned! More information and resources will be provided in the Solebury Messenger and on the Township website in the coming months.

In the meantime, to learn more about what it means to be a Bird Town, visit: <http://pa.audubon.org/bird-town>

These two parks will also benefit from a planned $20,000 expenditure on turf management, which is reflected in the department budget.

The 2013 Parks & Recreation Dept. budget is less than 1% of the overall Township budget and is offset by Summer Adventure Camp revenues as well as numerous fundraising activities run by volunteers.

Parks & Recreation Director Dudley Rice reported that community volunteers and local partnerships contributed to the department's success in 2012.

Key partners include the NH-S School District, which provided facilities for the Township's 2012 Summer Adventure Camp; the Lambertville-New Hope Winter Festival, which supports several local organizations in addition to Solebury Parks and Recreation; and individual sports organizations.

Summer camp and Winter Festival funds allow the department to provide the community with free programs, like AED/CPR certification and Halloween Safety Awareness, while individual sports organizations are a source of volunteers and raise money to support their teams and park facilities—all of which are vital to the health of the Township athletic program.

More than 800 children participate in parks and recreation activities each year.

In addition, adults participate in basketball, soccer, and softball programs.

Public Works Dept.

According to Public Works Director Dennis Carney—also the Township Manager—an increase in Highway Aid Fund revenue will allow the Township to complete an additional $90,000 of road resurfacing in 2013.

The department will purchase a gas-powered post driver and gas generators for Township traffic signals in 2013—fail safes against future power outages—for a total of about $8,000.

Approximately $150,000 of the Roads and Bridges Fund will be applied to road paving in 2013.

As Township Roadmaster, Dennis will inspect all of the Township's bridges with the Township Engineer in 2013 and create a prioritized list for future repairs.

Administration Dept.

The Township Manager noted that the 2013 budget will fund several items from the Natural Resource Preservation Fund in the new year, including a $5,000 watershed study, an $8,000 Act 537 update, $15,000 worth of stormwater outfall repairs and upgrades, $1,000 for the planting of trees, and $840 for enrollment in the Audubon Bird Town program.

The Township will maintain its contribution to the Lambertville-New Hope Ambulance and Rescue Squad at $17,500 this year, while increasing its contribution to the Central Bucks Ambulance and Rescue Unit from $3,000 to $13,000.

The Township will support other local nonprofits at 2012 levels, including the Bucks County SPCA ($1,250), Central Bucks Senior Citizens ($500), New Hope Senior Citizens ($500), and Phillips Mill Community Association ($375).
